	Dept: Judge Howard D. McKibben

Defendants and other persons alleged to have assets of the defendants hereby move the Court to dismiss this action, to dismiss the Order to Show Cause against them, and to award them their reasonable attorneys fees in defending this action and bringing this Motion.

This case is an enforcement of judgment proceeding related to a judgment entered against CALVIN YEAGER, VALLEY PIZZA INC. and LAKESIDE PIZZA INC. in the Eastern District of Michigan, Southern Division, Case No. 09-14704.

POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

1. THIS ACTION WAS STAYED BY THE BANKRUPTCY OF CALVIN YEAGER, AND ANY ENFORCEMENT AGAINST PROPERTY OR RIGHTS BY OR THROUGH CALVIN YEAGER IS BARRED BY DEBTOR'S DISCHARGE UNDER THE BANKRUPTCY CODE.

The Order sought to be enforced herein is against defendants CALVIN YEAGER,

1 VALLEY PIZZA INC and LAKESIDE PIZZA INC (docket #1, paragraph 2). That Order says
2 nothing about any non-party that it may be enforced against, so F.R.CivP. Rule 71 does not apply
3 to anyone other than the named defendants.

4 VALLEY PIZZA INC and LAKESIDE PIZZA INC have been dissolved and are no
5 longer legal entities. CALVIN YEAGER was the sole owner of those two companies. CALVIN
6 YEAGER filed for protection under Chapter 7 of the United States Bankruptcy Code on 7 November 18, 2010, Case No. 10-50416 in the United States Bankruptcy Court, Eastern District
8 of California, and received a Discharge thereunder on March 9, 2011. Defendants request the 9 Court take judicial notice of the proceedings in that case.

10 The automatic stay of 11 U.S.C §362(a)(2) prevents the enforcement, against the debtor 11 or against property of the estate, of a judgment, obtained before the commencement of the 12 bankruptcy case. Property of the estate includes all legal and equitable interests of the debtor in 13 property as of the commencement of the case (11 U.S.C §541(a)(1)), which obviously includes 14 the telephone number, operating manual, customer list, and any other property which plaintiff is 15 now seeking to recover from defendants or allegedly related persons.

16 The automatic stay was terminated by the entry of Yeager's Discharge, but that Discharge 17 voided any judgment that was a determination of the personal liability of the debtor, operates as 18 an injunction against the enforcement or continuation of an action to collect, recover or offset any 19 such debt as a personal liability of the debtor, and operates as an injunction against the 20 employment or continuation of an action to collect or recover from the property of the debtor
21 which was property of the estate (11 U.S.C §524(a)).

22 All property, rights and interests of Yeager, including the companies he owned, were 23 administered by the bankruptcy trustee as part of his bankruptcy estate, and Yeager now holds all
24 those properties, rights and interests free and clear of any judgment against him or that property.

25 This court is barred from doing anything in conflict with that bankruptcy law, because 26 jurisdiction over such matters lies solely in the United States Bankruptcy Court.

27 Because the present case is solely an enforcement of judgment action, then this case must 28 be dismissed.

1           2.       THE COURT HAS NO PERSONAL JURISDICTION OVER MATTHEW
2 MATLOCK, MELISSA YEAGER OR PRONTO PIZZA INC.

3           Plaintiff's Motion to Enforce Judgment (docket #7) demonstrates that the only thing
4 served on Matthew Matlock, Melissa Yeager or Pronto Pizza Inc. was an Injunction Order dated
5 January 25, 2010 (Exhibit 1 to docket #7), which was only by delivery of a copy to Matthew 6 Matlock and nobody else. The Order for Final Judgment was only against Calvin Yeager and his
7 companies, and was never delivered to anyone seeking to be brought before this court (Exhibit 4 8 to docket #7, served to Courtney McRae). An order cannot be enforced against anyone unless 9 the court has personal jurisdiction over them, though execution could be made against property
10 of a judgment debtor under their control. That is not the case here.

11           Constitutional due process requires that a person be served with process in certain
12 prescribed manners in order to confer jurisdiction to the court over that person. A Complaint
13 must be filed which presents a cause of action against that person (F.R.CivP. Rule 3), pursuant to 14 which a Summons must be issued and served on that person (F.R.CivP. Rule 4). That never 15 happened in this case with regard to Matthew Matlock, Melissa Yeager or Pronto Pizza Inc.

16           Plaintiff alleges the Motion to Enforce Judgment was served on Matthew Matlock,
17 Melissa Yeager or Pronto Pizza Inc. by mailing it to them, but that was not service of a Summons
18 and Complaint, and they were not parties to the judgment seeking to be enforced. Further,
19 Melissa Yeager lives in California and does not receive mail at the address stated, and "Pronto 20 Pup Pizza" is nothing (Pronto Pizza Inc. is a Nevada corporation which operates a business at 21 South Lake Tahoe, CA, and Pronto Pizza is a registered fictitious business name of Reier
22 Enterprises Inc. a Nevada corporation which operates a business at the Gardnerville location).

23           The Federal Rules of Civil Procedure are there to provide order to the system for 24 obtaining personal jurisdiction over persons and thereafter adjudicating their respective rights
25 and obligations. Those rules were not complied with in this matter, and this Court therefore does 26 not have personal jurisdiction over Matthew Matlock, Melissa Yeager or Pronto Pizza Inc.

27           Any order of this Court to or against Matthew Matlock, Melissa Yeager or Pronto Pizza
28 Inc. must be dissolved because of lack of personal jurisdiction, and this action as regards them

1 dismissed.

2 3. DEFENDANTS HAVE INCURRED REASONABLE ATTORNEYS FEES TO 3 DEFEND THEMSELVES FROM THE ACTIONS OF PLAINTIFF, FOR WHICH THEY 4 SHOULD BE REIMBURSED.

5 Plaintiffs have improperly brought and maintained this action against defendants and the 6 other persons, causing all of them to incur reasonable attorneys fees to defend themselves from 7 abuse of process and malicious prosecution by plaintiffs.

8 The underlying contract sued on by plaintiffs against defendants provided that the 9 prevailing party in a legal action shall recover their reasonable attorneys fees and costs in any 10 litigation. That applies to this post-judgment action by plaintiff against Calvin Yeager, Matthew
11 Matlock, Melissa Yeager or Pronto Pizza Inc.

12 Defendants request award of their attorneys fees, according to proof.

13 WHEREFORE, defendants pray the Court to dismiss this action, to dismiss any Order to 14 Show Cause, and to award defendants their reasonable attorneys fees.
